FOREWORD

We stand on middle ground..... between the old century and the new,
We have seen war, now we are seeking peace...,We hesitate a moment....and then move on....slowly, into a veiled future. We could not assume to know what this future holds for our Alma Mater....for you who come after us...
But we have faith that the richness of past service of our COEBURN HIGH SCHOOL has built a foundation which is firm.....and enduring.

CLASS WILL

To those who will be Seniors in the years to come,
We bequeath to you our treasured memories. Some
That will make us smile, some that will bring us tears,
As we reminisce in later years.

We leave to you our ambitions, our dreams, our desires,
Which as we leave, kindle our hearts, our souls, like burning fires.
Fires that properly fed, will inspire us to do
The work which will make our dreams come true.

We leave to you our plans, our hopes for a better world,
One in which the banners of prejudice and hatred will be forever furled.
To such a world only its youth can give birth,
And youth will meet the challenge of a torn and blasted earth.

Then to you, whose friendship we treasure as a precious thing,
We leave all the good that the future can bring.
And now, as the last of our school days fade,
We turn, and face the future, Unafraid.
